

IN TRUE PIRATE FASHION

Adventures on the High Seas of Adolescence

In True Pirate Fashion will be touring in October & November 2016. Check back for details!

Kompany Family Theatre is pleased to announce the fall 2014 school tour of In True Pirate Fashion for Junior High Students in Edmonton and the surrounding area.

Originally commissioned by the Expecting Respect Social Services Consortium for exclusive use in their highly successful peer education programme, In True Pirate Fashion addresses:

- relationships
- media influences
- bullying
- tobacco use
- self-image
- self-esteem

Over 10000 Junior High students in Edmonton and surrounding communities have already experienced this program. Read student, teacher and Principal testimonials on our website: www.intruepiratefashion.com

The Show: Five unlikely Junior High students must face their issues and work together as they search for the lost treasure of Scruffy Neckbeard. Junior High audience members figure prominently in onstage participation as well as following the performance in small group workshops led by the actors.

The Cast: Kompany Family Theatre is a professional theatre company in the Edmonton area committed to quality theatre for young audiences. In True Pirate Fashion has a cast of six professional actors experienced in performing interactively and facilitating issue-based workshops with junior high students. The cast performs under the direction of Jan Taylor, Artistic Director of Kompany Family Theatre and former prevention specialist with AADAC Youth Services.

Cost: $700 (in Edmonton) (45 min performance + follow-up workshops)
